Encouraging Active Kids through School Walking/Bicycling Programs with MassRIDES

Safe Routes to School (SRS) programs work to get kids walking and bicycling to school. MassRIDES, the Commonwealth's travel options program, is partnering with school stakeholders throughout Massachusetts to educate and encourage students to be physically active, to practice safe pedestrian and bicycling skills, and to understand more about their environment.

Learn the unanticipated impacts on our children's health, on our communities' quality of life, and on our environment from current travel patterns to schools. Hear what parents, school officials, neighbors, students, law enforcement officials, and community leaders can do with MassRIDES' help to promote healthier lifestyles, with kids back on their feet and on their bicycles.
